Department of Justice-OVW Sexual Assault Demonstration Initiative	Nonprofits having a 501(c)(3) status with the IRS, other than institutions of higher education Nonprofits that do not have a 501(c)(3) status with the IRS, other than institutions of higher education. The Sexual Assault Demonstration Initiative is OVW's first large-scale project to determine best practices and needed action in reaching more sexual assault survivors and providing comprehensive sexual assault services. A strength-based self-assessment of applicant agencies will be used to help selected demonstration sites develop an action plan to: 1) increase outreach to those populations most likely experiencing sexual assault in their communities, but not currently accessing services; 2) develop models of service provision that prioritize the needs of sexual assault survivors beyond immediate crisis responses currently offered; and 3) assess the efficacy of those steps in increasing the numbers and types of sexual assault survivors who access those newly enhanced services. Small Business Administration	This Act specifically encourages small business development centers to enhance their current level of export assistance and expertise. This funding is provided to SBDCs with a primary objective of supporting job creation and retention within the small business community through impactful SBDC individualized, in-depth, business advising of entrepreneurs and small business owners. SBDCs should use this funding to demonstrate increased innovation in areas such as: delivery of their services; serving new or additional markets not otherwise covered; and programs that will create the next generation of entrepreneurs. Potential projects might include: improving the level of international trade assistance offered; collaboration in incubators; collaboration in regional innovation economies; enhancing SBIR services; growing micro businesses; apprenticeship to entrepreneurship programs; and assisting spin-off businesses that bring university research to the marketplace along with other technological and innovative ventures. The SBDC program is the SBA's largest matching grant-funded service delivery network providing high quality business and economic development assistance to small businesses and nascent entrepreneurs in order to promote growth, expansion, innovation, increased productivity and management improvement	Nov. 4, 2010	December 30, 2010
Department of	This grant opportunity offers up to six first-year awards of $35,000 for the development of State Victim Assistance Academies (SVAA) that	Nov. 10,	Dec. 21,

Justice-Office of Victims of Crime	will provide comprehensive, academically based, fundamental education and training for victim assistance providers, victim advocates, criminal justice personal, and allied professionals who routinely work with victims of crime. Applicants must demonstrate a commitment from the state Victims of Crime Act (VOCA) victim assistance and compensation program offices to help develop the Academy. Those applying are urged to begin the application process well in advance of the December 21, 2010, deadline.	2010	2010
Department of Commerce	Under this announcement, EDA solicits applications for its Planning and Local Technical Assistance Programs. EDA's Planning Program helps support planning organizations, including District Organizations and Indian Tribes, in the development, implementation, revision or replacement of comprehensive economic development strategies (CEDS), and for related short-term planning investments and State plans designed to create and retain higher-skill, higher-wage jobs, particularly for the unemployed and underemployed in the nation's most economically distressed regions. The Local Technical Assistance Program helps fill the knowledge and information gaps that may prevent leaders in the public and nonprofit sectors in economically distressed regions from making optimal decisions on local economic development issues	Nov. 15, 2010	January 15 20100
Department of Justice Violent Offender Truth-In-Sentencing (VOTIS)-Second Chance Act	State governments will be eligible. Additional offender reentry demonstration grants will be made eligible
Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration-Center for Substance Abuse Treatment/Dept of	Government entities will be eligible to apply. Treatment programs as alternatives for addicted non-violent parent offenders and family-based treatment programs for incarcerated parents with minor children. $10M will be total allocation Sections 113 of the Second Chance Act authorizes grants to states, units of local government, and Indian tribes to improve the provision of substance abuse treatment within prison and jails and after reentry for inmates who have minor children and also includes outreach to families and provision of treatment and other services to children and other family members of participant inmates.

Justice-Family Based Substance Abuse Treatment	The Bureau of Justice Assistance (BJA) is seeking applications from eligible applicants to plan, implement, or expand such treatment programs.
Department of Labor-Responsible Reintegration-Second Chance Act	Grants to nonprofit organizations to assist offenders with obtaining and retaining employment. $20M total allocation. Expected to be released in June 2009	Not Released
Department of Justice-State and Local Reentry Courts-Second Chance Act	Creation of reentry courts similar to those established for non-violent offenders (possible 50% match). $10M total allocation. More specifically, Section 111 authorizes the creation of state, local, and tribal reentry courts to monitor offenders and provide them with the treatment services needed to establish a self-sustaining and law-abiding life. Modeled after the success of the drug court approach, reentry courts represent a relatively new form of jurisprudence. Focused on the back-end of the criminal justice system, the reentry court is designed to leverage partnerships between courts and corrections to facilitate successful offender reintegration. The concept of the reentry court necessitates considerable cooperation between corrections and local judiciaries, as it requires the coordination of the work of prisons and jails in preparing offenders for release and actively involving community corrections agencies and various community resources in transitioning offenders back into the community through active judicial oversight. http://www07.grants.gov/search/search.do;jsessionid=nKpwLWhKWZ1rHW339nlhCyPsZQLqJyQ6F5XhnW2kShJ6GZw2g2BZ!-195756103?oppId=53730&mode=VIEW
Department of Justice-Office of Justice Programs-Weed and Seed Communities Competitive Program	The Weed and Seed strategy aims to prevent, control, and reduce violent crime, criminal drug-related activity, and gang activity. The Weed and Seed strategy is a community-based, comprehensive multi-agency approach. Four elements make up the two-pronged Weed and Seed Strategy: Law Enforcement; Community Policing; Prevention, Intervention, and Treatment; and Neighborhood Restoration. Limited discretionary grant resources are available annually for communities selected as Weed and Seed Communities subject to Congressional funding and level of grantee performance. A Weed and Seed Community (WSC) must be developed in partnership with a variety of key local organizations and the local United States Attorney's Office (USAO). WSCs must work to reduce crime and improve the quality of life for residents in a community primarily through the redeployment of existing public and private resources, addressing both crime and social related problems that without proper intervention often lead to violent crime, drug abuse, and gang activity. http://www.grants.gov/search/search.do;jsessionid=4Fk6KRQF2pSq1Nx9r0lNLLFfhQM3QkZv6sDVnpFqGfrTjXJzdLvL!1834325596?oppId=47357&flag2006=false&mode=VIEW

Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration-Center for Substance Abuse Treatment-Statewide Family Network Grants	Eligible applicants are domestic public and private nonprofit entities, including faith-based entities, tribal family organizations, and family run non-profit organizations in States where there is currently not a funded Statewide Family Network because SAMHSA would like to strengthen new networks and to include as many states as possible with the current levels of funding. The purpose of this program is to enhance State capacity and infrastructure to be more oriented to the needs of children and adolescents with serious emotional disturbances and their families. The Statewide Family Network Program builds on the work of the Child, Adolescent and Services Systems Program (CASSP), which helped to establish a child and family focus in programs serving children and adolescents with serious emotional disturbances around the country. http://www07.grants.gov/search/search.do;jsessionid=C4QLKK9MKG2k34zlgn4DQMkJT07QTGK1GqGL2fTMhwpG02b82HGj!478192032?oppId=49640&mode=VIEW

Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration-Center for Substance Abuse Treatment-Offender Reentry Program	The Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration, Center for Substance Abuse Treatment is accepting applications for fiscal year (FY) 2010 grants for the Offender Reentry Program (hereafter referred to as ORP). The purpose of this program is to expand and/or enhance substance abuse treatment and related recovery and reentry services to sentenced juvenile and adult offenders returning to the community from incarceration for criminal/juvenile offenses. Applicants are expected to form stakeholder partnerships that will plan, develop and provide a transition from incarceration to community-based substance abuse treatment and related reentry services for the populations of focus. Because reentry transition must begin in the correctional or juvenile facility before release, limited funding may be used for certain activities in institutional correctional settings in addition to the expected community-based services. $39.6M. http://www.samhsa.gov/Grants/2010/TI-10006.aspx.
Department of Justice-Office of Justice Programs-Increased Victim Services for Weed and Seed Sites	This program is designed to develop replicable service/system models for comprehensive and culturally appropriate services for crime victims in Weed and Seed Communities who have faced particular types of victimization. Funding will support at least four demonstration projects that address the victim needs generated by environmental crime, gang-related violence, issues related to homicides of young African American males, and the victim's role in offender reentry. Supplemental awards will be made to four existing Weed and Seed sites
Department of Justice-Office of Justice Program-Drug Court Discretionary Grant Program	This program will provide financial and technical assistance to states, state courts, local courts, and units of state, local, and tribal governments to implement and enhance drug treatment courts that effectively integrate substance abuse treatment, mandatory drug testing, sanctions and incentives, and transitional services in a judicially supervised court setting with jurisdiction over nonviolent, substance abusing offenders. Programs funded by Drug Court discretionary grants are required by law to target nonviolent offenders and must implement a drug court based on 10 key components. This program supports adult drug court implementation and enhancement and statewide drug court enhancement and coordination. Web Link www.ojp.usdoj.gov/BJA/grant/drugcourts.html
Department of Justice-Office of Justice Program-Justice and Mental	www.ojp.usdoj.gov/BJA/grant/JMHCprogram.html Description This program increases public safety by facilitating collaboration among the criminal justice, juvenile justice, mental health treatment, and substance abuse systems to increase access to treatment for this

Health Collaboration Program	unique group of offenders. The program—Increases public safety through early intervention for people with mental illness or a co-occurring disorder within the criminal or juvenile justice system. Provides courts, including existing and new mental health courts, with appropriate mental health and substance abuse treatment options. Maximizes the use of diversion from prosecution, alternative sentences through community supervision, and graduated sanctions, as appropriate, in cases involving nonviolent offenders with mental illness. Promotes adequate training for criminal justice system personnel regarding mental illness and substance abuse disorders and the appropriate responses to people with such illnesses, including those with developmental and learning disabilities. Promotes adequate training for mental health and substance abuse treatment personnel regarding criminal offenders with mental illness or co-occurring substance abuse disorders and the appropriate response to such offenders in the criminal justice system
Department of Justice-Office of Justice Program-Field-Initiated Demonstration Programs	OJJDP will award grants to programs that foster innovations and advancements in juvenile justice-related practice at the local, state, and tribal government levels. This program will be part of OJJDP's comprehensive effort to support programs that demonstrate the practical implications for policy, practice innovative approaches, and enhance juvenile justice and delinquency prevention. This program will address a broad range of juvenile justice-related issues that support OJJDP's mission
Department of Justice-Office of Justice Program-Youth Prevention and Intervention Program	OJJDP, in coordination with BJA, will fund programs to support multi-strategy, multidisciplinary approaches to reducing gang activity. These programs will enhance coordination of local resources in support of community partnerships that address risk factors to gang involvement, including a lack of social and economic opportunities; family disorganization, including broken homes and parental drug/alcohol abuse; and strong commitment to delinquent peers, but low commitment to positive peers.
Department of Justice-Office of Justice Program-Second Chance Act Juvenile Mentoring	OJJDP seeks to support mentoring programs that use a strengths-based, community engagement approach. Research suggests that programs in which the mentor and mentee work together to address a social issue, participate in community service, or become involved in other local civic activities have resulted in the mentees being involved in less delinquent behavior and becoming more involved in their communities..

Department of Justice-Office of Justice Program-Second Chance Reentry Program	OJJDP will fund additional demonstration projects under the Second Chance Act Youth Offender Reentry Initiative, which supports a comprehensive response to the increasing number of people who are released from prison, jail, and juvenile facilities each year and are returning to their communities. The goal of this initiative is to increase public safety and reduce the rate of recidivism for offenders released from juvenile residential facilities. Demonstration projects will provide necessary services to youth while in confinement and following their release to the community. The program focuses on addressing the unique needs of girls reentering their communities. www.ojp.usdoj.gov/BJA/grant/SecondChance.html
Department of Justice-Office of Justice Program-Safe Start Programs to Address and Treat Children Exposed to Violence	This initiative provides continuation funding for Safe Start programs to enhance the accessibility, delivery, and quality of services provided to young children who have been exposed to violence or who are at high risk. Programs will focus on practice innovation, research and evaluation, training and technical assistance, resource development, and public awareness.
Department of Justice-Office of Justice Program-Programs To Address the Mental and Physical Needs of Youth in the Juvenile Justice System	OJJDP will work with states to explore innovative approaches to address the mental and physical needs of youth in the juvenile justice system. These programs will focus on providing mental health and physical health services for incarcerated juveniles who may need mental and physical assessments; developing individualized treatment and discharge plans; and identifying and providing aftercare services.
Department of Justice-Office of Justice Program-	This program will assist localities in responding to instances of child sexual victimization by perpetrators who are younger than 18 years old, with a specific emphasis placed on intra-familial child victims and

Youthful Sexual Offenders Program	offenders. The program will develop communities' capacity to use a multidisciplinary approach when working with children who have been sexually abused by other children and adolescents. The program will also build communities' capacity to provide treatment and supervision resources to youthful perpetrators of sexual abuse against children. OJJDP will coordinate this program with the SMART Office
Department of Justice-Office of Justice Program-Second Chance Prisoner Reentry Program	The Second Chance Act authorizes grants to state and local governments and federally recognized Indian tribes for demonstration projects to promote the safe and successful reintegration of incarcerated individuals into the community. Allowable funding uses include employment services, substance abuse treatment, housing, family programming, mentoring, victim services, and methods to improve release and revocation decisions using risk assessment tools
Department of Justice-Office of Justice Program-Second Chance Mentoring Program	The Second Chance Act authorizes mentoring grants for nonprofit organizations and federally recognized Indian tribes. Project initiatives include mentoring adult offenders and offering transitional or other services to promote the safe and successful reintegration of formerly incarcerated individuals back into the community
Department of Justice, Department of Health and Human Services, and SAMHSA-Enhancing Adult Drug County Services	The U.S. Department of Justice, Office of Justice Programs (OJP), Bureau of Justice Assistance (BJA), in collaboration with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA), Center for Substance Abuse Treatment (CSAT), is accepting applications for FY 2010 grants to enhance the court services, coordination, and substance abuse treatment capacity of adult drug courts. The purpose of this joint initiative is to invite applicants to submit for consideration one comprehensive strategy for enhancing drug court capacity, allowing applicants to compete for access to both criminal justice and substance abuse treatment funds with one application. In order to fulfill all of the requirements for this grant program, applicants must comply with the requirements outlined in this grant announcement as well as those, incorporated by reference, in the Drug Court Discretionary Grant Program: FY 2010 Enhancing Adult Drug Court Services, Coordination, and Treatment Solicitation Requirements Resource Guide.

Department of Justice-Addressing Substance Abuse	This FY 2010 grant announcement focuses on national initiatives to improve the functioning of the criminal justice system, in particular how to improve the response to substance abuse-related crime. This program is funded under the Edward Byrne Memorial Competitive Grant Program (Byrne Competitive Program). Authorized by the Department of Justice Appropriations Act, 2010 (Pub. L. 111-117), the Byrne Competitive Program helps local communities improve the capacity of state and local criminal justice systems, prevent or combat juvenile delinquency, provide assistance to victims of crime (other than compensation), and provides for national support efforts including training and technical assistance programs strategically targeted to address local needs.

Department of Commerce-Economic Development Assistant Recovery Act Program	Under this FFO, EDA will give priority consideration to those applications that will significantly benefit regions "that have experienced sudden and severe economic dislocation and job loss due to corporate restructuring," as stipulated under the Recovery Act. EDA provides financial assistance to distressed communities in both urban and rural regions. Such distress may exist in a variety of forms, including high levels of unemployment, low income levels, large concentrations of low-income families, significant declines in per capita income, large numbers (or high rates) of business failures, sudden major layoffs or plant closures, trade impacts, military base closures, natural or other major disasters, depletion of natural resources, reduced tax bases, or substantial loss of population because of the lack of employment opportunities. EDA's experience has shown that regional economic development to help alleviate these conditions is effected primarily through investments and decisions made by the private sector. Under the EDA American Recovery Program, EDA will help restore, replace and expand economic activity in regions that have experienced sudden and severe economic dislocation and job loss due to corporate restructuring, and prioritize projects that will diversify the economic base and lead to a stronger, more globally competitive and resilient regional economy. EDA's economic development activities help create jobs by encouraging business inception and growth. http://www.eda.gov/PDF/FY09ARRAFFOFINAL031309.pdf
Department of Health and Human Services-SAMSHA-Capacity Building Initiative for Substance Abuse (SA) and HIV Prevention Services for At-Risk Racial/Ethnic Minority Young Adults	The purpose of the CBI program is to support an array of activities to assist grantees in building a solid foundation for delivering and sustaining quality and accessible state of the science substance abuse and HIV prevention services. Specifically, the program aims to engage colleges, universities and community-level domestic public and private non-profit entities to prevent and reduce the onset of SA and transmission of HIV/AIDS among at-risk racial/ethnic minority young adults, ages 18-24.SAMHSA's mission is to reduce the impact of substance abuse and mental illness on America's communities

Health and Human Services-Health and Human Services-Special Improvement Project (SIP) -- Creating Family-Centered Approaches to Improve Child Support Enforcement Outcomes	Support Enforcement (OCSE), invites eligible applicants to submit competitive grant applications for Special Improvement Projects (SIP) to demonstrate strategies which 1) educate and involve both parents in child support enforcement (CSE) processes and 2) coordinate referral of both parents to needed non-CSE services (such as workforce development and employment). There is growing recognition that the more both parents understand and are involved in the decisions which affect their and their children lives, there is greater opportunity to improve CSE impacts and create healthier families. Project strategies must target unwed, low-income parents who are in need of child support assistance. Parents would be referred to a combination of services such as mediation, healthy relationship education, access and visitation, as well as other services that address the financial barriers facing both noncustodial and custodial parents
Department of Health and Human Services-Health and Human Services-SAMSHA-Community Resiliency and Recovery Initiative	The Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration is accepting applications for fiscal year (FY) 2010 Community Resilience and Recovery Initiative (CRRI) grants. The purpose of this place-based initiative is to improve behavioral health outcomes through enhanced coordination and evidence-based health promotion, illness prevention, treatment, and recovery support services in communities affected by the recent economic downturn. Through coordinated services the CRRI will work in funded communities to: * Reduce depression and anxiety; * Reduce excessive drinking (and other substance use if the community chooses); * Reduce child maltreatment and family violence; * Enable communities to better identify and respond to suicide risk; * Build a sense of cohesiveness and connectedness; * Enable coordination across service systems and community organizations; and * Improve community resilience and reduce the impact of the economic downturn on behavioral health problems. The intent of the program is to help communities mobilize to better manage behavioral health issues despite budgetary cuts in existing services and to promote a sense of renewal and resilience. http://www.grants.gov/search/search.do;jsessionid=DhGlLWWRv4Rn1jvQMQ7hc6QGY6hZYccCPFczPXgpMF5LDTzmwN6Q!-195756103?oppId=53485&mode=VIEW

The ultimate goal of the JOLI program is economic self-sufficiency for the targeted populations

Department of Health and Human Services-Community Economic Development Projects	In Fiscal Year (FY) 2010, contingent upon available funding, the Office of Community Services (OCS) will award Community Economic Development (CED) discretionary grant funds to Community Development Corporations (CDCs) for well-planned, financially viable, and innovative projects to enhance job creation and business development in low-income communities. The grants will be made as part of a broader strategy to address objectives such as arresting tendencies toward financial dependency, chronic unemployment, and community deterioration in urban and rural areas. http://www.acf.hhs.gov/grants/open/foa/view/HHS-2010-ACF-OCS-EE-0001
Department of Justice-Engaging Men in Preventing Sexual Assault, Domestic Violence, And Stalking State Grant Program	Applicants are limited to nonprofit, nongovernmental organizations or coalitions that have a documented history of creating and administering effective public education campaigns addressing the prevention of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault or stalking or a State, Territorial, Tribal, or unit of local governmental entity that is partnered with the aforementioned. http://www.ovw.usdoj.gov/docs/engaging-men-youth-solicitation.pdf
Department of Justice-Project Safe Neighborhoods	Project Safe Neighborhoods (PSN) is a nationwide network designed to create safer neighborhoods by reducing gang and gun violence and crime, and sustaining that reduction. The program's effectiveness is based on the cooperation of local, state, and federal agencies in a unified offensive led by the U.S. Attorney (USA) in each of the 94 federal judicial districts. Each USA is responsible for establishing a collaborative PSN task force of federal, state, and local law enforcement and other community members to implement PSN initiatives within the district. Through the PSN task force, each USA will implement the five core elements of PSN—partnerships, strategic planning, training, outreach, and accountability—to address specific gun and gang crime problems in that district Department of Justice-Criminal Justice Improvement and Recidivism Reduction through Justice Reinvestment	The Omnibus Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2010 (P.L. 111-117) authorized the Bureau of Justice Assistance (BJA) to provide funding for a Criminal Justice Reform and Recidivism Reduction Competitive Grant Program. This program focuses on a Justice Reinvestment model. ‘‘Justice reinvestment’’ refers to a data-driven model that: (1) analyzes criminal justice trends to understand what factors are driving the growth in jail and prison populations; (2) develops and implements policy options to manage the growth in corrections expenditures, generates savings in public revenues, and increases the effectiveness of current spending and investment to increase public safety and improve offender accountability; (3) reinvests a portion of the savings into the justice system to further reduce corrections spending and into the community to further prevent crime; and (4) measures the impact of the policy changes and reinvestment resources and holds policymakers accountable for projected results

Department of Justice-OJJDP-2010 Mentoring for the Safe Schools/Student Initiative	The SS/HS Initiative is a joint effort by the U.S. Departments of Education, Health and Human Services, and Justice to support schools and communities in creating safer and healthier learning environments. This solicitation invites current Safe Schools/Healthy Student grantees to develop proposals that will increase the capacity of their SS/HS collaborations to develop and implement community-based mentoring programs or to expand and enhance existing mentoring programs and strategies. This program advances the provision of integrated resources for prevention and early intervention services for children and youth by supporting effective evidence-based mentoring services to young people who are underserved. The intent of this program is to demonstrate new mentoring efforts or to expand existing mentoring efforts that work in concert with a grantee's SS/HS comprehensive plan.
Department of Justice-OJJDP-Juvenile Drug Court Training and Technical Assistance Program	Applicants are limited to for-profit (commercial) organizations, nonprofit organizations, faith-based and community organizations, and institutions of higher learning with demonstrated expertise in assisting communities develop, maintain, and enhance juvenile drug courts and family drug courts. OJJDP encourages organizations or agencies with expert knowledge of such drug courts to apply. For-profit organizations must agree to waive any profit or fees for services. Joint applications from two or more eligible applicants are welcome; however, one applicant must be clearly indicated as the primary applicant (for correspondence, award, and management purposes) and the others indicated as co-applicants.
Department of Justice-OJJDP-Community Based Violence Prevention	The U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ), Office of Justice Programs (OJP), Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP), is seeking applications for funding under its Fiscal Year (FY) 2010 Community-Based Violence Prevention Demonstration Program. This program furthers DOJ's mission by reducing violence involving youth in targeted communities
Department of Justice-OJJDP-State Start Promising Approaches Project	The project's purpose is to provide for evidence-based or theory-based interventions to prevent and reduce the impact of children's exposure to violence in their homes and communities. Exposure to violence includes child maltreatment, abuse, or neglect; witnessing domestic violence; and community and/or school violence. This project will address the needs of children and youth ages 0–17 who have been exposed to violence and their families. OJJDP seeks projects that embody a comprehensive and collaborative approach that uses the current knowledge base to address children's exposure to violence. Applicants may apply under one of two categories: (1) "Strategic Enhancement," which improves an ongoing evidence-based model, or (2) "Practice Innovation," which implements astrategy/intervention based on sound theory and evaluative literature, which has yet to be evaluated rigorously. Successful applicants must participate in a rigorous evaluation as part of this project.

Department of Education-Rehabilitation Research and Training Centers (RRTCs)--Improved Outcomes for Individuals With Serious Mental Illness and Co-Occurring Conditions CFDA Number 84.133B-5	The purpose of the RRTC program is to improve the effectiveness of services authorized under the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, through advanced research, training, technical assistance, and dissemination activities in general problem areas, as specified by NIDRR. Such activities are designed to benefit rehabilitation service providers, individuals with disabilities, and the family members or other authorized representatives of individuals with disabilities. Department of Health and Human Services-Mentoring Children of Prisoners	The Administration for Children and Families' (ACF) Administration on Children, Youth and Families' (ACYF) Family and Youth Services Bureau (FYSB) is accepting applications for the Mentoring Children of Prisoners (MCP) program. This program supports the creation and maintenance of one-on-one mentoring relationships between children of incarcerated parents and caring, supportive adult volunteer mentors. The intent of this program is to support the establishment or expansion and operation of mentoring programs, using a network of public and private community entities, in areas with substantial numbers of children of incarcerated parents. Within ACF, FYSB has established formal agreements with The Children's Bureau and The Office of Family Assistance to identify MCP-eligible children in order to expand the delivery of mentoring services. The MCP program is designed to be a community-based mentoring program in which children and youth ages four up to age 18, are appropriately matched with an adult mentor, who has been screened and trained, for a one-on-one (one mentor/one youth), friendship-oriented (non curriculum-based) mentoring relationship

Department of Health and Human Services-Street Outreach Program	The Administration for Children and Families' (ACF) Administration on Children, Youth and Families' (ACYF) Family and Youth Services Bureau (FYSB) is accepting applications for the Street Outreach Program (SOP). The purpose of the SOP is to conduct outreach services designed to build relationships between grantee staff and runaway, homeless, and street youth.
